An aerial photograph of a large school playground. The foreground is dominated by several tall palm trees and dense green foliage. In the middle ground, there is a large, rectangular green field, likely for football, with white goalposts visible on the left and right sides. To the right of the green field, there is a basketball court with a reddish-brown surface and white boundary lines. In the background, a large, multi-story school building with many windows is visible, surrounded by more trees. The sky is overcast.
