Report " Seminar on Energy audit and its conservation "

Date: 27 Feb.2020

A two hour seminar was conducted for the students of first Year on 27th February by Dr. Mandar Bhavalkar, (Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering Power Systems), Assistant Professor, Electrical Engineering PVG's COET, Pune The topic of the seminar was "Energy Audit and Conservation". Students and Staff members found this seminar to be very challenging and also very Interesting as all became aware of the energy resources we are bestowed with and how it is our responsibility to conserve it. The objective of the seminar was to determine what further energy saving techniques can be used, on most practical lines. Also it's thrust has been towards hidden losses and technical upgradation. Dr. Mandar Bhavalkar also provided elaborate technical details as well as cost-benefit calculations for each proposal of energy saving. It was a very beneficial seminar and we gained a lot of information. 50 students of our college along with teaching staff members were present for this activity.
